Column 99

By Frank M. Luecke

Once upon a time I wrote a column in The Herald called Mid-County Cameron. It lasted three weeks and fell before the day-to-day rush of weekly newspapering. Its demise failed to draw much attention, a fact causing me to wonder whether a so-so column could ever sell.

So I decided a so-so column under a different heading might do a little better. Thus, the new title by the old writer, Column 99.

Now the choice of the title is very clever. Numbers, thought I, fascinate people. And what could be more fascinating than the meaningless number 99, meaningless until we remember that The Herald is in its ninty-ninth year.

Thus the title is a device (or a "gimmick' as people in some circles might say) to create interest even if the column itself doesn't.

Many people think that an editorial or a column should be one man's opinion or one man's experiences. I differ with those people (Ye gads, we're already in the field of controversy).

99 — 99 — 99

I think the best column writers are people, readers whose experiences tell a story for you. I will immediately be accused of laziness by co-workers, apt critics and my wife. Their criticism will be justified. I'm lazy.

However, the most interesting material in any man's column is based on other peoples' experience. If a writer can dress it up a bit and reach an audience for those experiences, he is doing his job.

Oh, I have opinions all right. but they are reserved for editorials. But "Column 99" is your column and, by golly, I think you should help me write it.

99 — 99 — 99

It would obviously be impossible for one person to be everywhere that interesting, mostly humorous, incidents occur. That is where you help write Column 99. So write, wire, telephone (not collect, please) or drop by and tell us about anecdotes that happen to you or your family. As long as it happens in Milam County, we will try to relay it to The Herald's readers.

Column 99 then is going to be a "resounding board" for the day-to-day nonsense that makes life worth laughing at. If you don't take it (the column or life either one, take your choice) seriously, it can be real fun.

FB To Bring Specialists To Cameron

A three-part analysis of the U. S. cotton industry is scheduled by representatives of the National Cotton Council in a visual presentation to cotton leaders of Milam County at the Agriculture Building, Yoe High School in Cameron, Texas, May 22.

It is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Staff members of the Council s field service staff headed by Dick Yeager will explain cotton's competitive situation at home and abroad, industry activities aimed at increasing consumption of its products, and potentials for cotton provided it competes effectively in price, quality, and promotion.

Serious Competition

O. G. Tumlinson, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau, pointed up in announcing the program the seriousness of the challenge to U. S. cotton, from many man-made fiber substitutes and foreign cotton production and the many goods and services being offered consumers.

The Cotton Council presentation, he explained, will employ numerous slides to portray graphically where the cotton industry stands at present, what is being done about the situation, and where it is headed.

The Council field representatives will describe the progress that is being made to achieve a competitive price for cotton through efficiencies in production, marketing, processing, and manufacturing.

The presentation will analyze the role of quality in cotton's competition for markets, revealing how the fiber not only must appeal to consumers but also to the textile mill and those who merchandise textile products.

It will give specific examples of how consumption has been expanded by capitalizing on research and promotional opportunities.

Two Alternatives

In a summarizing statement the speakers will emphasize the alternatives for cotton:

(1) A substantial increase in markets by keeping pace with the rapid expansion in population and standards of living at home and abroad; or

(2) Dwindling markets, reduced acreage and volume, and a constantly shrinking income not only for the cotton industry but for all who are dependent on it.

Tumlinson said that all Farm Bureau members as well as nonmembers interested in cotton should attend this meeting and give their thinking in helping to solve the problem.

MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE

Seed, Damp Soil Causing Troubles

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

Poor stands of cotton due to low germinating seed and cold, damp soil are causing farmers some concern. Many farmers are replanting their cotten to avoid the weeds and grass as well as the poor stand.

Some reports come in regarding grub worm damage to corn stands. Dry weather is needed in order for farmers to plow their corn and get air into the soil.

Lawn Maintenance

Constant care and attention are necessary for the maintenance of a beautiful lawn. One of th ebasic factors involved is mowing. Improper mowing is responsible for the deterioration of many lawns. Mowing too close encourages the tinning of the turf and shallow rooting, resulting in lower resistance to drouth, diseases and invasion by weeds.

The leaves of the lawn grass not only produce the green color, but also manufacture food required for the entire plant. When too much of the leaves are clipped the entire plant suffers. No more than a half inch of the leaf tip should be removed at any one mowing.

Creeping types of grasses can withstand closer mowing than bunch types. Bermuda should be mowed at a height of one to one and a half inches; St. Augustine, baffalo and zoysia, one and a half, while bluegrass and ryegrass should be mowed no closer than one and a half to two inches.

Many lawn enthusiasts like a dense mat of turf, but such a buildup of stems and leaves eventually leads to trouble. The mat acts as insulation; new roots from stems must penetrate it to get to the soil, and it increases the disease hazard.

Too Much Grain Hurts

Feeding too much grain in poultry rations results in reduced growth rate and production, and adversely affects feed conversion. An all mash starter, grower, or laying feed intended to be the sole ration of poultry should not be fed with grain, except on recommendations of the manufacturer.

Producers have a tendency to feed more grain than is recommended because this portion of the ration is cheap compared to the concentrate. It is evident that such a dilution will reduce the level of vitamins, minerals and drugs which the bird would receive.

Corn was considered to be the grain of choice for incorporation into poultry feeds before 1950. But the production of milo in the U.S. has increased by over 100 percent since 1950 and today it is considered to be the equal of corn in feeding value. Milo has the same energy content and about 2 percent more protein than corn.

Poultry producers have become interested in using home-grown grains for poultry feeding, which is advantageous if they are used properly. But don't overfeed on grain simply because it s cheap. It may not be so cheap in the long run.

Dick and Marvin Pope of Alice are here visiting their father, H. T. Pope who is ill at his home.

Texas Champions of Freedom

HENRI CASTRO

Guardian of Man's Right to Self-Rule

Historic and architecturally beautiful Castroville, 20 miles from San Antonio on the Medina River, is an enduring monument to a great and wise man who had unbounded faith in the capacity of intelligent men for self government. And he chose Texas as the country in which to prove his faith. Henri Castro, Parisian banker, scholar and humanist, learned about Texas when he aided the young Republic to obtain a French loan in 1840. What he learned fired his idealism and determination to help his fellow men in independence of thought and action. So, backing his concept of freedom with his own great personal fortune, he contracted to bring a colony from Alsace to settle in the new country. Although war with Mexico made Texas ports unsafe, Castro successfully landed 27 shiploads of Rhenish-French immigrants from 1844 to 1847. In that time he had settled 485 families and 457 single men in the peaceful, pleasant villages of Castroville, Quihi, Vandenburg and D'Hanis. There he expended more than $200,000 to equip his colonists for a successful agriculture economy, and planned with them for progress in trade and industry.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland.. "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Farmers Replanting Much Milam Cotton

Plowing and replanting got underway late last week following a full measure of soil moisture, according to County Agent J. D. Moore.

Moore said that about 30 percent of the cotton needs replanting due to poor seed germination and disagreeable weather.

Corn and grain are also suffering from continued rains and need for air in soil. The rains stopped May 4.

The county agent said that small grain is heading out. Oats will be ready for making hay as soon as weather clears.

Livestock conditions continue good with markets strong. Truck crops and garden prospects also are good.

Here's why Plymouth, America's favorite family wagon, is

TODAY'S BEST BUY-TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE

You get more wagon for your money today...more money for your wagon tomorrow!

Any way you look at it, you can't find a better wagon buy than Plymouth! So big—it carries more, does more, provides more room for family fun. So beautiful—just look at those long, years-ahead lines. So economical—Plymouth is priced right in the low-price "3", yet you can't buy a bigger wagon at any price. And further proof: Plymouth beat every car in the low-price class in the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run; Plymouth's second consecutive victory!

Get the biggest wagonload of value at a price far lower than you would expect. See your Plymouth dealer today.

FIVE BIG REASONS WHY YOUR NEXT WAGON SHOULD BE A PLYMOUTH

1. Biggest of the low-price "3". Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy a bigger wagon at any price!
2. Holds so much more than the "other two". Over 7 cu. ft. extra passenger and cargo space. Optional "secret" luggage compartment available in 6-passenger models.
3. Rear-facing 3rd seat. Folds flush into floor. You don't store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter, has convenient back step.
4. Disappearing rear window. Rolls down into the one-piece tailgate. Doesn't jut out. Only on Plymouth wagons in the low-price "3".
5. Torsion-Aire Ride at no extra cost. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price "3". No sidesway on turns . . . no nose-dive on stops.

They don't come any bigger than Plymouth station wagons

After Tabulation . . . What?

Tabulation of recommendations for community development made last week by civic and school groups will not be complete until June.

The written recommendations were made by members of about 12 Cameron civic and church groups meeting during the Chamber's community development clinic.

The Herald sat in on one of the clinics and was impressed by the interest and intelligent criticism resulting from the discussion of Cameron's needs.

As the groups were told at each meeting, those recommending improvements in Cameron as a residential and industrial center should expect to help bring about the improvements they suggested.

We will hazard two guesses:

1. Cameron will be impressed with the self-analysis made by these individuals.
2. And Cameron will work hard to develop those things she herself needs.

When the final tabulation is released, many of the physical and cultural improvements considered for years will be high on the list, without doubt.

Cameron is facing her problems intelligently when hundreds of people voice their opinions on what they want. It is remindful of the old town meetings held in early days of the U. S. when there were only 13 colonies.

Now what we do with the problems after isolating and labeling them is indeed another matter. With full anticipation of working to improve a condition, whatever it may be, we are heading for a full measure of hard work.

That is where community development is turned from intemized dissatisfaction with status quo into physical improvement.

Cameron in a sense will be testing her real desire to compete with towns throughout the state for the commodities of civic survival — industrial payrolls, agricultural services for a basic farm economy, and continued residential growth.

We believe Cameron will do the job. Only Cameron will solve Cameron's problems.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Scientists To Turn Efforts To Leaky Faucets, Dent-Proof Cars

Dear editar:

I know everybody is supposed to be concentrating all his efforts these days on keeping up with Russia in guided missiles and space exploration, but the way I see it is, even if we make a landing on the moon and open up a lot more planets for occupation, somebody is going to have to stay on this earth, and I've been thinking.

We don't want to get so busy we neglect life around here, and I would like to propose a few problems for the scientific minds to tackel.

For example, up to now, the scientific mind, with all its vast accomplishments, has never been able to permanently stop a leaky faucet. They can stop one from leaking temporarily, but sooner or later it'll start leaking again. What I'd like to propose to the world of science is a rubber washer that'll last a lifetime, or else throw out the whole washer idea and invent a hydrant that works without one.

Also, while I have given up expecting the automobile industry to build a car that'll last a lifetime, if I was in the business I wouldn't be interested either, you don't catch me urging anybody to invent a cow that'll supply meat to one family forever, still I would like to see the scientific mind perfect a tail pipe that'll last at least four years, ceratinly longer than one or two.

Another thing the scientific mind ought to be turning its attention to is a wrinkle-proof car fender. If they can do it with shirts and pants, why can't they do it with car fenders?

I could go on listing a lot of other things, but you are as familiar with them as I am. I'm in favor of the schools turning out more scientists, but not just scientists to work on satellites and guided missiles. What we need is a great body of scientific brains tackling the every-day problems.

I still contend there's nothing more rediculous than a space scientist, just after launching a new satellite, having to come home to a leaky faucet and a bill for straightening out a car fender his wife has just dented because somebody apparently narrowed the garage door during the night.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Cotton Farm Leaders Join Allotment Fight

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Leaders of the Texas cotton farming industry, long plagued by regional feuding, have joined hands. Object: to try to stave off a drastic cut in the 1959 acreage allotments.

Unless the present farm law is amended by Congress this session, the national cotton acreage allotment would drop automatically from the presently authorized national quota of 17,500,000 acres to approximately 14,200,000 acres in 1959.

Spokesmen from all the state's cotton producing areas met in Austin to hammer out an alternate proposal. Their plan:

(1) Retain the 17,500,000 national acreage allotment.

(2) Give farmers a choice between planting higher acreage at lower price supports or lower acreage with higher supports.

(3) Abolish the present Soil Bank program.

It was the first time, said leaders, that this Texas industry had been so well unified behind a program. In previous years, East and West Texas growers have been at loggerheads over quotas.

Texas cotton men say that neither they not the economy as a whole can stand the threatened 20 to 25 per cent slash.

Of the 17,500,000 acres now allotted to cotton over the nation, Texas has 7,474,000, giving the state a hefty stake in the future of the industry.

A Stitch In Time

Thrifty farm families who can a good portion of their yearly produce will probably have best chances of survival if nuclear bombs ever should fall on Texas.

These and other facts bearing on the key role of rural and small town citizens in civil defense were pointed up as Texans participated in the nationwide practive exercise, "Operation Alert."

For two days officials and representatives of agencies making up the State Civil Defense Council sat in the map-lined, bomb-proof Disaster Control Center in the Department of Public Safety building. Pretending five cities had been hit, they practiced coping with the gigantic problems that would arise .....maintaining government, reestablishing transportation, communication and power facilities, providing food, shelter and medical attention for victims, escaping radioactive fallout.

Small towns and rural areas would serve as reception centers for evacuees from target cities.

Providing food is regarded as especially crucial. "If all transportation were knocked out, Texas would have only 14 days supply of food," says State Defense Coordinator William L. McGill. Gardent plots and crops in the field might be ruined by fallout. Frozen foods might spoil for lack of electricity.

Hence, if worst comes to worst, a well-stocked pantry is seen as an ace in the hole.

Living Within Means

Texas government should try to make spending fit income rather than vice versa, says a spokesman for the Retail Merchants Assn. of Texas.

Charles J. Lux of Austin, executive vice president of the Retail Merchants, said his organization is opposed to any new tax, whether on sales, income or gross receipts.

He suggested the State Tax Study Commission and Texas Research League concentrate on finding ways to economize rather than hunting a new source of state revenue.

Along this line, an interim legislative committee is searching into higher education expenses.

Sen Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, chairman, said the study is directed toward achieving maximum effiiciency and possible savings.

Specifics to be considered: (1) how many college classes are below recommended size (2) how much public money is required to subsidize athletics and health services and (3) cost of college presidents' homes.

Down The Drain!

"Down the drain" often sadly describes the money that disappears so completely between one payday and another. Best time to put a quick STOP to this "disappear-in act" is at the START. Before you do anything else with the money in your pay envelope, make a deposit in your savings account here. The dollars you save in the beginning can't go "down the drain" in the end...

TO SERVE YOU BETTER — The staff of Cameron Auto Supply awaits the opportunity to serve you better in automotive repair and parts needs. From left are Co-owner Allen Dodson, George Pool, Melvin Provazek and Co-owner Jerry Mikula. Dodson and Mikula invite garagemen to check their supply of auto parts for use in auto repair work. They also invite the general public to check Cameron Auto Supply for auto accessories on the retail side of their business.

Top Brand Names, Services Await Cameron Auto Customer

If you want name brand parts for any kind of automobile, truck or tractor, come to Cameron Auto Supply, 101 E. Main St., Cameron.

That's the invitation extended by Allen Dodson and Jerry Mikula, partners in this independent auto parts business.

Mikula and Dodson's staff includes George Pool and Melvin Provazek, skilled specialists in auto parts and repairs.

A specialty this time of year is motor and general repair of power lawn mowers in our shop, Dodson says.

And it's no idle claim Cameron Auto Supply makes. The list of name brand parts reads like a who's who of auto accessories and parts equipment.

Dodson points with pride to an operation that provides a complete parts stock and fast, efficient service.

Wide Selection

If you want recognized parts equipment, here are some names you will find at Cameron Auto Supply Co.

Spark plugs by AC, Champion, and Auto-Lite.

Oil Filter cartridges by Fram, AC and Hastings.

Mufflers and tailpipes by Walker.

Fuel pumps by AC, Airtex and Carter.

Bearings by Timpken, Hyatt and New Departure.

And other parts brands include carbeurators and pumps by Carter, a complete line of Auto-Lite and Standard ignition parts and Hastings, Perfect Circle, McQuary-Norris and Ramco piston rings.

"Our customers can depend on auto parts such as Gates fan belts we stock for all cars, trucks and power equipment," Dodson emphasizes. "And they will find a complete line of McQuay-Norris replacement parts."

Factory Dealers

"We are factory service dealers for Briggs & Stratton, Clinton, Lawn Boy and Power Products, two and four-cycle engines," Dodson continues. "All these are recognized for quality and performance in the auto business."

Cameron Auto maintains stocks of replacement parts for all these engines, he says.

In the auto accessories field, Dodson points out, we have Shaler, Resilone and Casite brands. In fact, we have tire tools, gas cans, funnels or any thing you might need, he continues.

"And we have a good repair department to provide our customers with quick, efficient service," he says.

"We believe that Cameron Auto Supply Co. can meet any requirements in the auto parts field. We can give honest, dependable service because we know our business," Dodson concludes.

Mack's Oil Co. Offers Variety, Of Road Service

Mack's Oil Company, on US 77 Cameron, has a variety of auto services and competent staff of eight to carry out a complete auto treatment with Phillips 66 products.

A. W. McCullin, owner of Mack's Oil Co., which has two other retail outlets in Rockdale and Caldwell, features the best in service and name products for his customers automobiles.

McCullin, also Phillips petroleum distributor in Milam, Burleson and Lee Counties, knows that top-notch service is what customers want. And that is what they get at his Cameron service station.

His Cameron station features Phillips petroleum products including diesel duel, motor oils and gasoline. He also sells Lee tires, the famous Gates belts, Purolator oil filters and Champion sparkplugs, all well-known brand items.

"You will find the complete service in Mack's 66 in Cameron," McCullin says. "And the same efficient, courteous Phillips 66 service awaits you at the Rockdale and Caldwell statoins."

A versatile man in petroleum products and public service, McCullin also buys and sells crude oil in the Minerva field in Milam County. In fact, he points out that he began working in the oil business in Minerva in 1931, moving to Cameron in 1939.

His firm specializes in diesel and heavy oils and operates in 29 counties. His main office is in Cameron, McCulln says.

McCullin provides equally efficient service and sales at his retail outlets.

McCullin moved to Cameron in 1939 where his operation has grown steadily ever since.

The alert Cameron businessman has been as active in civic work as in his profession.

He has served as district lay leader of the Bryan Conference of First Methodist Church, chairman of the finance committee of the First Methodist Church, the district board of missions, member of the Texas Methodist Conference Planning Commission, member of the Texas Oil Jobbers and past director, and member of the Texas Motor Transportation Association and director of the safety committee.

He has also served as mayor of the city of Cameron in 1946-47, is a past president of the Lions Club and past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

His many activities in church and civic work have failed to hamper the growth of Mack's Oil Co.

Outdoors In Texas

Lone Star State Offers Game Fishing Variety

By L. A. Wilke

They are catching big strings of trout and reds on the Texas Gulf coast. Some whopping big sheepshead also have been pulled in, fishing in and around the jetties.

That doesn't keep us from talking and thinking about mackerel, however. In about another month the Spanish mackerel will begin their run in earnest. And then will come the kings.

If a man wants to go fishing, it looks like he can find it anywhere in Texas this year. Sandies have been giving all of us a run for our money.

Right now crappies also are doing exceptionally well in some spots. Lake Belton, Grapevine, Whitney and Caddo are all hot. Mostly minnows are used, but quite a few are being caught on spinning plugs and spinner baits. It s fun to catch a barn door crappie with spinning tackle. They'll put up a nice little scrap, but their mouth is so tender you must use utmost care in landing them.

Rods — Boats —Lines Are Better

Having watched considerable bait casting over a long, long time it is interesting to note how much farther most fishermen cast nowadays than in the years gone by. Of course there are many good reasons. Mostly, however, equipment can be credited with quite a few yards of the extra distances.

Right now we have the best fishing equipment the world has seen. It is engineered for both distance and control. A few years back it took a lot of practice to get both distance and accuracy.

Nearly everyone today has good equipment. It is very seldom you run across a rod made prior to 1950. Fishermen have pretty well used up all the steel rods that were made prior to World War II. Following the war fishermen began using glass rods. Today the very finest and cheapest rods are made of glass fiber. It is true there are a few inefficient glass rods, but we are now getting such quality in nominally priced equipment anyone who can afford to fish can afford a quality rod.

The same is true of reels. I don't know what the relative sales records are, but from the number of enclosed reels you see around today's fishing holes, they must be taking over. Women seem to like them especially well. We have several friends who have bought these reels for their wives and children. They like them so well they are now turning to enclosed reels for themselves.

Gun Care Important

This is just a reminder. Chances are good that when you put the scattergun in the closet and got out the fishing rod you just gave the gun a lick and a promise. If so, better retrieve it now and do a little wiping or you may have to polish off some rust, come next hunting season.

From time to time during the coming year you'll be reminded in this column about water safety. Hardly a day goes by that we don't read about someone drowning, or being seriously injured in a water accident.

Most of these accidents can be traced to just plain carelessness. Somebody does something very foolish and the next thing his friends are dragging the lake for his body.

We hope every time you step in a boat this year you'll remember to use utmost care, both for yourself and others.

A Tip On Minnows

A fish biologist has just reminded me that most of the rough fish which we have to fight in out new impoundments have been put there from minnow buckets. There is a tendency on the part of all of us to dump into the lake whatever minnows we have left then we are through fishing.

If you use pond raised minnows this isn't so bad. However many places sell minnows that have been seined from distant rivers, some as far away as Mexico, Oklahoma or Arkansas. Many of these are carp and gar minnows. As a result, we are infesting new lakes with rough fish which later must be cleaned out.

If you have some minnows left, give them to someone else or dump them out on dry land. Or, you might take them home, dig a hole in the garden and pour them in. Then plant a squash or watermelon. They'll be well fertilized.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gilleland, Jr. and son, Duke, were here from Houston the past weekend to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gilleland.

Lone Star Gas Cites C. M. Burke, Matula

Charlie M. Burke, manager of Lone Star Gas Company's Cameron district, has been awarded a Ruby Emblem in recognition of 25 years of continuous service with the company, according to R. H. Gray of Waco, South Texas Tegional Manager for Lone Star.

Gray said that a 10-year service pin has been presented to Felix A. Matula, Jr., Cameron serviceman for the company.

Burke began his career with Lone Star in 1930 in Waco, his birthplace, working as water boy for a construction crew after classes and in the summer to pay his way through high school.

Following graduation he continued his part-time work while a student at Baylor University where he received the B.B.A degree in 1937. Meanwhile, on April 1, 1933, he had been placed on the regular payroll, working in the meter shop, helping on an appliance truck and performing the duties of shop clerk.

Attends Graduate School

In September, 1938, after a year of study at Baylor Graduate School, Lone Star sent Burke to Sweetwater as full-time utility man and five years later he was promoted to plant engineer at Sweetwater. He was appointed Cisco district manager in 1944, transferred to Sulphur Springs in the same capacity in 1950. He has been manager of the Cameron district since July 1, 1954.

Burke is married to the former Evelyn Bettinger of Waco. Their children are Peggy, 18; Billy Marie, 12, and Donna Kay, age 5 years. Burke's father is C. J. Burke who retured several years ago as distribution superintendent for Lone Star Gas Company in Waco.

Burke is active in Cameron community affairs, serving as president of the Rotary Club. He is on the board of directors of the Cameron Country Club, the North Milam County United Fund, the Chamber of Commerce and the Cameron Columbus Club. He is a member of the Heart of Texas Council and assistant district commissioner of the Tejas district, Boy Scouts of America. He is a member of the Cameron Quarterback Club and is Chancellor of the Knights of Columbus Council No. 2338. His hobbies are golf, football and baseball.

Matula Cameron Native

Matula started working for Lone Star April 1, 1948, in Cameron, his birthplace. He is a member of the Catholic Church, the Knights of Columbus Lodge, the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department and is serving as a Scoutmaster. His hobbies are hunting Indian arrowheads and relics. During World War II he served three years in Europe with the Army's 94th Infantry Division as a Company Aid Man.

H. D. MAXWELL

Maxwell Seeks Superintendent's Post In County

H. D. Maxwell, long-time Rockdale school man, announced this week that he is a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools, Milam county, subject to the action of the July primary.

Maxwell came to Rockdale 25 years ago to start the vocational agriculture department in the Rockdale schools and remained in this capacity 21 years until 1954. Since that time he has been principal of the Rockdale High School, his present position.

A graduate of Lometa high school, Maxwell took his BS degree at Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville in May 1930, and his Master of Education at A&M College in August 1942. He taught three years in the rural schools of Denton County before taking the position as principal and then superintendent of the Lodge high school from 1925-28, coach and science teacher at Hedley high school 1928-29, and taught vocational agriculture at Stratford high school 1930-33 before coming to Rockdale.

"I feel that my educational background and my long years of service in the field of education equip me to understand the problems and the needs of the job which I seek," Maxwell said. "I will," he added, " always keep in mind the best interests of the school children of all Milam county, trying to improve the education of these children."

Maxwell also said it would be his endeavor, if elected, to bring about harmony with the independent school districts of the county and work with them " in any way that will improve the public school system of the county. I consider this a full time job and if elected I plan to devote my full time to it," he added.

In addition to his school work, Maxwell has been active in all fields, civic, church, youth work, and soil conservation, his friends point out. He was instrumental in organizing this area for the Taylor Soil Conservation District through the Young Men's Business League of Rockdale, which he served as president. He also took the initive in organizing the first GI School.

Maxwell is a member of the Alpha Chi Scholarship Society, has served as president of the Texas Vocational Teachers Association and the Milam County Teachers Association. He has been president of the Rockdale Lions Club, and the YMBL.

Maxwell has been particularly active with Boy Scouts and received the Beaver award for Boy Scout work. He served as Scoutmaster for a long period of years, remaining active after that in committee work. He has a pin as a "gallon donor" to the Red Cross blood bank.

A member of the First Christian Church of Rockdale, Maxwell is a past president of the church board, an elder in the church, has taught men's Bible class for over 20 years, is president of Men's Fellowship, and serves on the state advisory board of the Christian Men's Fellowship.

Maxwell is married to the former Gladys Mabel Harwell and they have three children, Julia Verne, now Mrs. Sam Law of Houston; H. D. Maxwell, Jr., doing graduate work at Texas A&M after completing a tour of army duty; and Sidney Maxwell, in the U. S. Air Force.

"Until the end of the current school term I will be busy with my job as principal of schools in Rockdale, but following the end of school I plan to start an active campaign around June 1," Maxwell said. "I hope to see as many of the people of Milam county as possible and I want all of you to know I will appreciate your support," he added.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT GEARINO and children of Plainfield, New Jersey, are visiting in the home of her parents, MR. and MRS. DEMPSEY ALLEN. They plan to be in Cameron for two weeks.

Leon Wilson, 32, Announces For Representative

Leon Wilson, Hearne, has authorized The Herald to publish the following announcement, subject to the July Democratic primary.

"After a great deal of deliberation, I have decided to seek the Democratic nomination for State Representative of the 56th District, Robertson and Milam Counties.

"The decision was made in a serious manner after weighing my qualifications and determining that I could discharge the demanding responsibilities of the job.

I have been a resident of Hearne and Robertson County nearly nine years, moving here from Austin upon graduation from the College of Pharmacy of the University of Texas.

"I am presently a co-owner (with Joe Wilson) of two drug stores in the city of Hearne. I am 32 years of age. My wife, Mary, and I have three children.

"I was born in Madisonville, Texas, and graduated from public school there in 1943. After a short while in Sam Houston State College at Huntsville and Texas University, I was inducted into the Army and served 26 months in the Corps of Engineers, 19 months of which was in Europe.

"Honorably discharged with the rank of technical sergeant in 1946, I re-entered Texas University, graduating in May of 1949. Until recently, I was a member of The Texas National Guard, holding a commission of 1st Lieutenant in the Medical Service Corps.

"I have always been interested in community, school, and county affairs and was elected a member of the Hearne City Council by receiving 535 votes from 690 cast. My interest in our schools was broadened and increased recently while serving as chairman for the Robertson County Hale-Aikin Committee for the Study of Public Schools.

"One factor that weighed heavily in making my decision to seek this office was a desire to do something to remove the encouragement that immorality receives through the graduated payments to mothers of illegitimate children.

While I recognize that we have an obligation to the child itself, some change must be made in the welfare laws of the state that will discourage instead of encourage repeated offenses.

I will see as many voters as is physically possible before the July Primary election personally to ask for your vote. However, it is also a voter's responsibility to learn as much as possible about the candidates and I urge you to make any inquiry you deem proper."
